

The Disclosure Project – Designer Ware – TDP052

This album is a series of ten finely crafted pieces of music; it combines musical artistry of a high level and street level grooves. The listener and appreciator of this album will be an aficionado or connoisseur of the electronic music scene; this is not for the faint hearted as its music dexterity takes the listener through all horizons of musical moods, from ambient right through to heady house grooves.

Within minutes of its promo send out it had offers from high level house producers to get their hands on the parts to remix, as well as some major respected label reps asking about licensing tracks from it.

A combination of skilful musical know-how and street wise grooves push the borders of electronic music in ten hand picked and skilfully crafted tracks. Prepare to be startled by the skill on this album.

JP Phillippe & Mr Jones who are The Disclosure Project have been on the cutting edge of deep house music for the last 3 years, they have licensed to EMI/Sony/Plastic City and released and remixed on some of the finest deep house labels there are. Here they present a unique vision on the label with an incomparable album that aside from setting standards for the scene to keep up with provides an auditory journey most listeners will find difficult to fault.
